8. IMPORTANT! Airplane mode- before you leave port switch your phone into Airplane mode to save $$$$$. If your phone is not in Airplane mode, you may incur expensive international roaming charges.

9. Luggage tags

To print Royal Caribbean luggage tags, log into your Royal Caribbean account online, navigate to your cruise details, and find the option to view and print your documents, which will include the luggage tags. These tags are usually available around 30 days before your cruise. You can then download the tags as a PDF and print them.

Here's a more detailed breakdown:

1. Access your Royal Caribbean account: Go to the Royal Caribbean website and log in.
2. Locate your cruise details: Find the "Manage My Cruise" or "My Reservations" section.
3. Find the luggage tags: Look for a link to "View & Print Documents" or similar wording.
4. Download and print: Click on the luggage tag link to download the PDF, then print the tags using a color or black and white printer.
5. Attach the tags: Carefully cut and fold the tags, then attach them to your luggage using the provided slots or by stapling them securely.

If you don't print them beforehand, generic tags are usually available from the porters at the pier on the day of boarding. Advance printing moves you thru boarding faster.

PRO TIP- Purchase a set of clear luggage tag holder specifically for Royal Caribbean on Amazon. They securely fasten to your luggage and protect the tag from falling off and losing or delaying the arrival of your bags to your cabin.

Print extra tags and place extra copy inside your luggage incase your outside tag is lost.

Information, resources, and guidance to assist U.S. citizens in Mexico.

If you are in Mexico and need emergency security or medical help, call 911. If you are a U.S. citizen in Mexico and, after reviewing the information in this navigator, need immediate help outside business hours, including weekends and holidays, call (55) 8526 2561 from Mexico or 1-844-528-6611 from the United States

.MEDICAL CARE ABROAD

For a non-citizen experiencing a medical emergency in Mexico, the immediate course of action is to call 911, the national emergency number. While public and private medical services are available, non-citizens may face out-of-pocket costs and should verify their insurance coverage. The U.S. Embassy can provide assistance locating medical professionals and facilitating communication with family, but payment for treatment is the responsibility of the individual.

Elaboration:

1. Emergency Services:

- Dial 911:

This is the national emergency number in Mexico. Clearly communicate your situation and location.

- Consider Private Ambulances:

While public ambulances exist, private ones may offer faster response times. However, be aware that some private ambulances may be unlicensed ("pirate" ambulances) and charge exorbitant fees.

- Language Barrier:

If you don't speak Spanish, learn basic medical phrases and be prepared to explain your location.

- Insurance:

Understand what your insurance covers before seeking treatment. Some clinics and hospitals may not directly bill international insurance companies, requiring payment upfront and subsequent reimbursement.

2. U.S. Embassy Assistance:

- Locating Medical Services: The U.S. Embassy can help you find appropriate medical professionals.
- Communication: They can assist with informing family or friends about your situation.

- Financial Assistance: The Embassy can help facilitate the transfer of funds from the U.S. if needed. However, you are responsible for covering the costs of medical treatment.
- STEP Program: Enroll in the Smart Traveler Enrollment Program (STEP) to receive alerts and make it easier for the Embassy to locate you in an emergency.

3. Healthcare System in Mexico:

- IMSS:

The Mexican Social Security Institute (IMSS) provides healthcare services for Mexican citizens and legal residents.

- Non-Residents:

Non-residents, including tourists and some expats, are not eligible for IMSS and need private international health insurance.

- Public Health System:

Mexico's public health system does not have reciprocal agreements with other countries, and US Medicare is not available.

4. Important Considerations:

- Be Prepared to Pay:

Be prepared to pay for medical services out-of-pocket, even with insurance, as direct billing may not be common.

- Evacuation and Repatriation Loans:

Contact the U.S. Embassy or consulate to inquire about evacuation and repatriation loans if needed. These loans must be repaid.
